

Groundbreaking techniques and strategies to get the edge and enhance your personal and leadership effectiveness.

WHY SUSAN

Susan is a CEO Advisor and Leadership Coach focused on helping leaders and their teams to develop the capacity and mindsets to lead in today's disruptive environment. She has personally coached billionaire CEOs, prominent Fortune 50 executive teams and incredible entrepreneurs that set out to disrupt the marketplace.

Her firm, Meritage Leadership, uses a cadre of 15 seasoned coaches and consultants who work with senior leaders and executive teams. She is also the host of the podcast and YouTube channel The Enlightened Executive, where she interviews founders and CEOs on the most cutting-edge programs, assessments, apps and techniques in personal and leadership effectiveness.

Meritage works with private equity firms and their emerging portfolio companies, as well as large corporations such as Oracle, Viacom, KPMG, A&E Networks, Genentech and others. Susan has graduate degrees from Harvard Law School, Carnegie Mellon University and the London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art.

THE LEADER'S PLAYLIST:

Unleash the Power of Music and Neuroscience to Transform Your Leadership and Your Life

We all have a program, or playlist, that is running in the background that acts as a ceiling on our leadership effectiveness.

You may feel you can't retain or engage your people. You may be feeling burnout or that your team is overwhelmed by the pace of change. You may feel that you can't delegate or trust your team to deliver. The impact of the pandemic has been so far reaching that every leader has struggled in some way in the face of massive disruption.

In this keynote, Susan will share a process to uncover the program impacting your leadership, explain how music can interrupt this program, and then share how to leverage music to help you be a better leader.

This isn't just a metaphor. Music has the ability to help make change stick, by priming the neurological landscape to form new neural pathways in a faster, more efficient way. In 60 minutes, you will learn more about this unique approach and the tools to create a new, more powerful playlist that will transform your leadership and your life.

"When I inherited a large, new team at Oracle, Susan drove success in our business by helping us learn our working styles through the Enneagram assessment process and by guiding us to develop strong models for understanding and collaboration. Our engagement with Susan was an essential part of our turnaround strategy for the business."

— ROB TARKOFF, EVP & GM, Oracle Corporation

"As an emerging healthcare business, our senior team formed quickly and we needed to drive results right out of the gate. Susan helped us understand the diversity of leadership styles on the team, how to leverage each other's strengths and watch out for blind spots... trust, collaboration, and respect are now embedded in our culture and will be a foundation for our future growth."

— HUGH LYTLE, CEO, Equality Health